

Reception News

This week we have been to Alien School. When we arrived on Monday, our classroom had been moved around and everything was upside down. We read the story Welcome to Alien School by Caryl Hart and Ed Eaves. In the story Albie was dropped off at alien school instead of his own and had to do all sorts of alien activities with his new alien best friend. He had to eat space spaghetti, paint pictures that came alive and ride a space shooter. This made us think about the things we might get up to in our alien school. So, in our writing we sent a postcard home to tell our families about the alien school dinners, the alien friends we made and the alien activities we did.

In PE, we moved around space like astronauts and used our throwing techniques to throw the moon rocks back onto the different sized moons. The moons got smaller and further away each time we threw our moon rocks but we still managed to throw them all back!

Phonics

We have finished our phonics assessments this week. I have sent home some feedback which you will find in your child's reading record.
